AMUSEMENTS

SAVOY.

The bad weather does not seem to have any effect on the business at the Savoy, as there was a nice crowd out at the matinee yesterday to see the new bill and none were disappointed, as the pictures, songs and music were, as usual, "the very best." The picture program as follows: "Caught in the Tolls," a very realistic and modern drama; "The Picture Writer," an artistic inspiration, an Indian life portrayal and romance of primeval America; "Roentgen X-Rays," a film which shows a number of interesting experiments with the wonderful x-rays and clearly demonstrates the results obtained from their use; "The Widow of Ticker O'Neal," a comedy dealing with many eccentricities of everyday life. Mr. Roberts is singing "The Wreck of the Good Ship Love," and "You Are the Ideal of My Dreams," and it goes without saying that the music is O. K.

WELL-KNOWN DRAMA COMING.

For strength and interesting qualities in dramatic form, there is nothing to surpass the coming presentation of the well-known New York success, "The Square Man," in which George Dill will appear at the Elks theater, March 24th. In writing this play, Mr. Edwin Milton Royle, the author, has gone a step farther than many dramatists, and has succeeded in putting together a comprehensive structure, and one must travel far to find an equal to it. There is always a strong interest in the play, but few plays have shown that life of the plains of twenty years ago as it really was, with its atmosphere of arid heat, strong passions and faithful friendships.

Mr. George Dill has succeeded Dustin Farnum in the title role, and is peculiarly suited to this character. Human emotion is shown at every turn, and yet it is handled delicately, so ably that there is not one discordant note to be found at any point. Throughout only absolute strength and virility, with clean-cut human passion and a certain element of self sacrifice upon which the play hinges, is to be found. So vital is the tale that runs athwart the stage, that the interest of the spectator is held as by a spell, and the final curtain brings a satisfaction to the auditor that is hard to duplicate. It has been said that "The Square Man" is the great American play, but that question the audience is left to decide for itself.

THE WIGWAM.

Manager Mullen announces an entire change of program tonight, which will be interesting to all. The photographs are all features as they are a bunch of splendid selections, and will be shown as follows:

"The Rejected Indian," a thrilling military drama, one that gives us a picture full of western atmosphere and color.

"A Just Verdict," imparting a lesson that sinks deeply into every fibre and recess of our souls.

"The Better Man," the last proves first and wins the prize.

"Daisy Cuckoo," a humorous western comedy, rapid and wholesome, and beautiful, overflowing with tender robust fun. Don't miss it.

Miss Hall will sing two up-to-date songs, entitled: "My Love is Greater Than the World" and the latter, "Betsey Ross," illustrated.

THE EMPRESS.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather last night, the audience that greeted the second performance of the "Charity Ball" was not quite as large as usual since the advent of the World's Fair Stock company in Phoenix. Those who did attend, however, lacked nothing in enthusiasm, and certainly the actors gave a performance that would have been a credit to a metropolitan company. The "Charity Ball" is a very dramatic play and gives an opportunity for intense dramatic work. A few touches of comedy are added when William Brunton as Alexander Robinson succeeds in convincing the old judge that the woman to whom he has just proposed, has a cork leg.

The players responded to numerous curtain calls, and again demonstrated that they are the most accomplished thespians that have ever stopped in Phoenix more than two days.

The same bill will be presented at the matinee this afternoon and tonight and at Sunday night's performance.

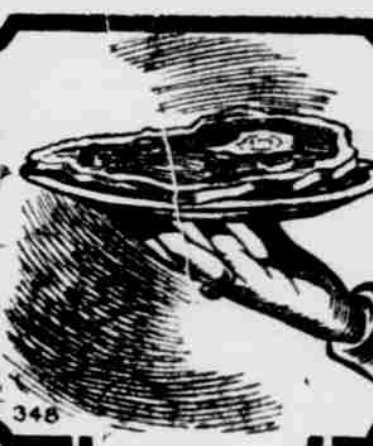

Meet me at the Victrola concert at Goldwaters this afternoon. Everybody is invited.
